

My Husband to Be

Authored by my friend, Lennell Haley - Book: Inspirational Words Of The Heart

Am I truly ready for what I have been praying for, asking God to send

My husband to be

Am I ready to walk side by side with him, while he leads the way

What about him being the head of my life the way the Lord is the head of his

Can I keep my vows, promising to be clean and neat and pretty each day for him

Am I ready for my husband to be keeping our home balanced, for when he comes home from work,

Will I have a positive word to share, letting him relax because he has been standing on his feet all day

While he is getting ready to eat, Can I set the table where we come to meet and share our day

Lord we must be equally yoked and compatible, knowing that if we pray together we will work together, conquering anything that comes our way

Can I be the wife he needs,

Can I sometimes be the other woman he might want to meet in the street

Am I truly ready now for my husband to be

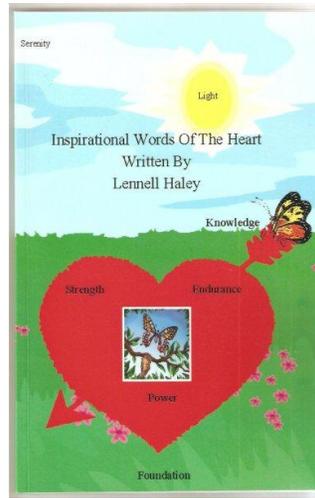

Until death do us part

Is what the Lord says to married couples

Who are complete in Him

My Wife to Be

Authored by my friend, Lennell Haley - Book: Inspirational Words Of The Heart

Am I truly ready for what I have been praying for

Asking God to send,

My wife to be

Can I keep a job to support my family,

Take her by the hand, asking her to follow me

Always setting an example, praying to my Heavenly Father who is the head of me

Will I be able to have fun with her

Being her personal exotic dancer while she's laughing, throwing pennies at me

Sending her flowers just because she means the world to me

Having our children

Rather she becomes thick or thin, can I still be her best friend

Or will I begin to cheat or will I walk away foolishly

Lord am I ready for my wife to be

Until death do us part

Is what I am praying for

In Jesus name, Amen
